(4) Forward-Looking Information

Regarding the forward-Looking information, the outlook remains uncertain due to US tariff policy change, high inflation, and geopolitical risks. In particular, the Company is unable to appropriately estimate the extent of the decline in orders associated with the sudden change in US tariff policy at this time, and therefore, the Company have not reflected this decline in our current financial forecast.

Based on these assumptions, the Company expect consolidated revenue for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2026 to be lower than the previous fiscal year, considering a decrease in sales in AT (Automatic Automotive Drivetrain related business) due to the progress of electrification and the appreciation of the yen against the US dollar.

In terms of profits, the Company will strive to secure profits by further promoting group-wide efforts to improve overall management efficiency, such as improving facility utilization rates and reducing overhead costs, while appropriately reflecting in selling prices any cost increases resulting from sudden changes in tariff policies.

As a result, the Company expect the revenue for the fiscal year ended March 2026 will be ¥285.0 billion (7.9% decrease from this fiscal year), operating profit will be ¥19.0 billion (13.0% decrease from this fiscal year), and income before income taxes will be ¥18.0 billion (11.8% decrease from this fiscal year). Profit attributable to owners of the parent company is expected to be ¥12.0 billion (5.8% decrease from this fiscal year).

The exchange rate is assumed to be ¥143 per US dollar.
